

LOST
SEASON 6 EPISODE 13

TITLE: The Last Recruit

Well this one is up for interpretation, but it appears that Jack is the last recruit of the man in black. The last recruit that is left as the others left on Desmond's boat? The last recruit for Locke? I just don't know. I am guessing the last recruit is Jack, whatever the hell that means...

1. Going back to last weeks 'Rowing' song in the previews, someone pointed out that the factory tour in Willy Wonka was designed to weed out those not worthy to take over the factory.
2. The Elizabeth is the boat that Desmond tried to race around the world to impress Charles Widmore so he could marry Penny. This is not Penny's boat (HA! I kill me.) This boat was actually Libby's. Remember? Come on! Libby's husband bought the boat right before he died. Libby gave the boat to Desmond and he promised her he would win the race in the name of love. What more in the name of love... in the name ... of love ... what more... sorry...
3. In the Flashsideways Locke tells Ben that he was going to marry Helen while in the ambulance.

Desmond introduces Claire to the unblown-up Ilana, who then introduces her to her brother Jack.

Jack recognizes Locke right before he is about to operate on him.

Sawyer and Niles arrest Sayid so I think that this pretty much covers the fact that everyone's lives are now tied together in the Flashsideways. Neato bandito.

4. We also finally have our confirmation that the Man in Black was Christian Sheppard as well. Does this mean he was Kate's horse or should we just not even bring that one up?

- Claire and Desmond got off the elevator on floor 15.
- Sawyer may be catching on to the flashsideway too. He mentions to Kate how odd it was that they met again after meeting in the airport.

- Sawyer jumped off a helicopter to go back to the island for the good of the group. Jack jumps off the boat for the same reason in this episode. The Man in Black tells Jack “Nice day for a swim” when he reaches shore. Sawyer said the same thing to Juliet when he reached the shore after jumping out of the helicopter.
- Jack tells Sawyer that he doesn’t think there is any life for him back home. Sawyer tells Jack “there are pills for that” which is a bit ironic since he became addicted to pain killers in the other timeline.
- Jack and Claire meet for the first time as brother and sister in both timelines in this episode.
- Did Sayid kill Desmond in the well? I say Desmond lives.

11. The map to the boat (possibly drawn by my 3 year old daughter.)

12. Well, I guess even the most awesome badass people of all time have a weakness. I mean hell, Superman had Kryptonite right? I just always thought that after all that training and all the deadly skills our friend Sayid has, I just thought it would always be something a little more impressive than a garden hose that would cause his demise. I mean imagine 24 ending with Jack Bauer tripping over a garden hose? Damn.

- 13 Raise your hand if you want to be stuck at sea in a tiny sailboat with Crazy Claire. Nobody? Yeah, me either...

14. Finally Sun and Jin get back together... right before the Widmore camp takes them hostage again and starts dropping mega bombs on The Man in Black and Jack.

LINE OF THE WEEK:

Hurley: You can bring people back from the Dark Side. What about Anakin?
Sawyer: Who the hell is Anakin?
