

Lost
Season 5
Episode 13

Title : Some Like it Hoth

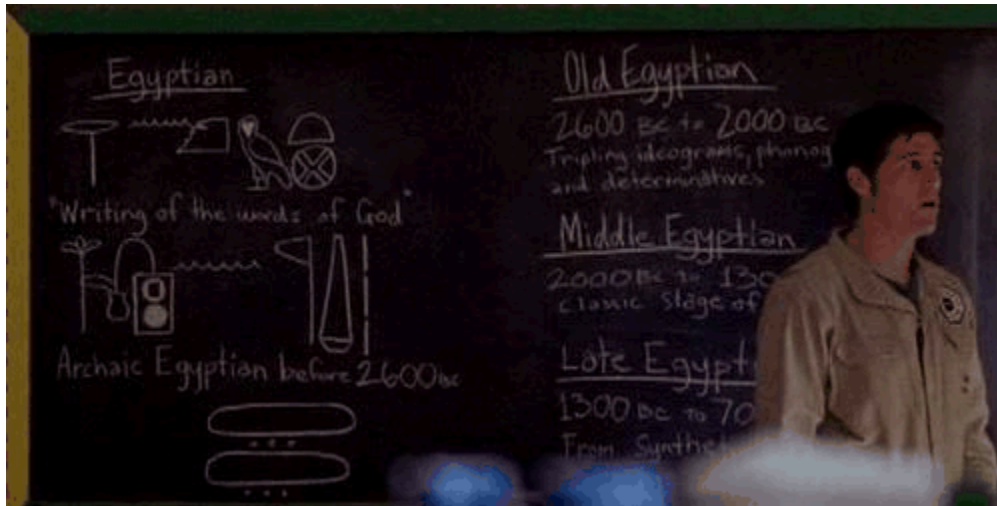

A direct reference to Star Wars : The Empire Strikes Back.
Hurley uses the Luke / Vader analogy to try to work things out for Miles and his Dad
Oh ... and Mr. Candle is Miles' Dad.
Also, Hurley is writing the script to Empire Strikes Back.

1. Here is the dead guy (ALvarez) with a bullet through his head. Only it wasn't a bullet. It was his filling.
Electro-Magnet mayhem!

2. Jack was erasing the chalkboard. Little Dharma kiddies are studying Ancient Egypt. Which makes perfect sense since every thing on the island covered in hieroglyphics.

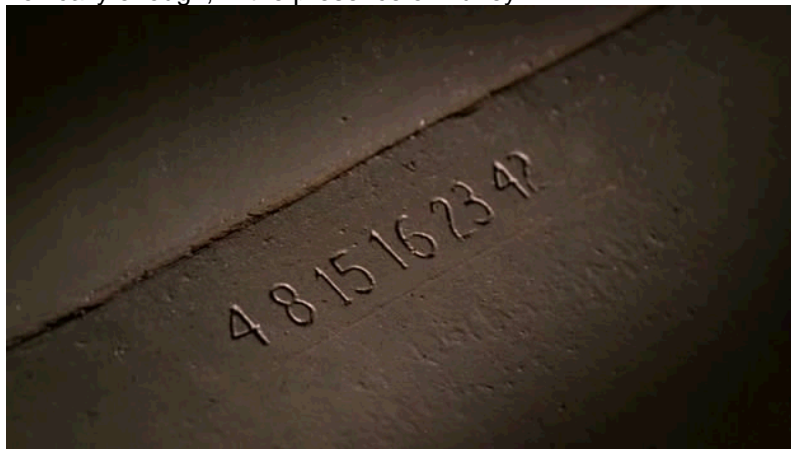

3. The periodic table in the schoolhouse had elements that were not discovered in 1977. It could be a error by the props department or it could be Dharma-cool.

4. Kid Miles got the key to the dead guy's (Mr. Vonner's) apartment from under a rabbit statue by the front door.

The rabbit statue has a number 8 on the ear.

5. The numbers were back this week all over the place. We even go to see them put on the hatch, ironically enough, in the presence of Hurley.

6. Numbers... 16 seconds on the microwave in kid Miles house, Miles mom has to pay 4 hundred for the apt., the room Miles finds the dead guy in was in room 4 with the key under the 8 rabbit, the video that needed to be deleted by Miles was from camera 4, Naomi offers Miles 1.6 Million, Miles puts the key to the van on peg #8, and even the Sports Illustrated issue that Miles is reading has a big old 23 on it ('after 23 years... new boss in LA)

7. Just when you thought the Polar Bears were gone for good? Dr. Candle (now knows as Pierre) is reading the book "Me and My Polar Bear" to Miles.

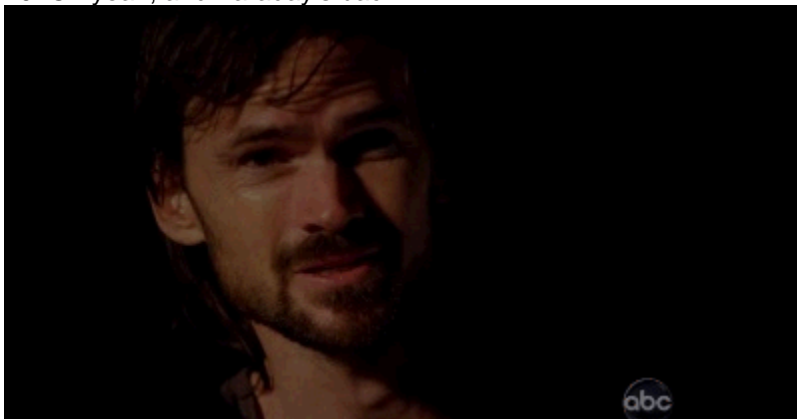

8. So getting back to the Star Wars thing... Hurley mentions the scene in Star Wars where Luke cuts off Darth Vader's hand. In the hatch movies it appears the 'Dr. Candle' only has one working hand and possibly, the hand we see is a fake one. If Miles' chops his father's hand off, you heard it here first and you must love me even more.

9. Here's some pics of the Swan Hatch being made:

10. Oh yeah, and Faraday's back!

We have a little break. See you in two weeks!
