

Lost
Season 5 Episode 11
Whatever Happened, Happened

Title:

Miles tries to explain to Hurley (and the slower audience members) how time travel works in Lost-land. Different from Back to the Future Land. Nothing they do will change the way things play out, because whatever happened... happened. So Sayid really did shoot Ben when he was 12 years old. If we could go back to when Sayid was torturing Ben in the hatch and magically take off Ben's shirt (ewww) we would see a scar from a bullet... because that actually happened.

I am a little sad that, according to Richard Alpert, Ben won't remember anything about the incident.

It was fun thinking that Big Ben (hah!) would have remembered all the LOSTees from his childhood.

1. The secret whisper from Sawyer to Kate was for her to take care of his daughter, Clementine.
2. Kate sings "Catch a Falling Star" to Aaron. Claire asked the possible adopting parents of Aaron to sing that song to him. Also, in the nursery The Other's built for Aaron, the mobile plays the same song.
3. Kate tells Cassidy the truth about the Oceanic 6 she also tells Claire's mom the truth as well.
4. Jack called Kate which distracted her enough to lose Aaron

5. And the woman who found Aaron was really really really really really really really creepy looking.

6. Sawyer ran out of new nicknames this week. Kate was Freckles and Jack was Doc.
7. Richard claims that Ben will never be the same after he heads to The Temple with him. Oddly enough, and an very cool fact is that this means Kate, Jack, Sawyer, Juliet and of course Sayid all have a huge and direct impact on what Ben will eventually be.
8. When Richard takes Ben, one of the hostiles comments that Ellie and Charles won't be happy. Richard claims that "They are not in charge." I am assuming Charles is Charles Widmore and Ellie is Elloise?
9. Kate was a little too mushy with Ben's Dad. I would of thought she was out of his league, but looks like Kate isn't too picky.
10. Pretty straight forward tonight, without much hidden info. The end was fun though. John welcomes Ben back to the land of the living. They are in the Hydra hatch. Locke looked pretty bad ass.

11. Richard claims that if he takes Ben and fixes him, he will "lose his innocence" and will "always be one of us"

12. Richard takes Ben to The Temple - Smokey's House.

Sorry so short. Just not much going on this week. Looks like next week may be the big one of the season though. Just the calm before next weeks storm. Hold on to your Dharma Butts next week because it looks like we are going on a fun Ben filled ride.
