

Season 4 : Episode 4
Eggtown

Title: Well, other than the fact that Locke was making 'the last two eggs' there is other meaning to Eggtown too.
(And for the record, if they are low on eggs, Lock should stop killing chickens...)

Eggtown is a term used during the Great Depression. There was a lot of trading going on back then and eggs were considered a bad trade because they were so easy to come by. Eggtown came to be known as a term that basically meant a bad trade. Maybe this refers to the deal Kate made to get out of prison. Maybe not being able to leave (I assume) California) is a bad trade for her in the end.

1. Okay... so now we know this...

The World thinks there were 8 initial survivors of the crash.
Six lived so that means the world assumes two survived the crash only to die later.

Alive:

1. Kate
2. Jack
3. Hurley
4. Sayid
5. Aaron !

Dead:

7. I am assuming Claire with the old 'she died during childbirth' lie thrown in.
8. ?

2. Kate basically says she is bad with children and doesn't want to be a mother to Claire and then becomes the mother of her child.

3. In last years finale, Kate tells Jack that she has to get back or 'he'll wonder where I am.' We can know assume she is referring to Aaron?

4. Remember, Claire is Jack's half sister and Aaron is his nephew. I wonder if he knows this and that is why he doesn't want to see Aaron.

We assumed it was because the baby was Sawyer's, but at the end we realize it isn't. That could be the reason Jack doesn't want to see his illegitimate nephew.

5. Finally, we start the episode with the close up of an eye. Locke's eye this time.

6. And some great Dharma generic groceries this episode! Dharma Spam! Dharma boxed wine! Even Dharma playing cards and Coffee Mugs!

7. Speaking of playing cards, one was a red Queen. Back to the subtle Alice in Wonderland references.

8. The book Locke brought Ben was Valis by Philip K. Dick. A science fiction novel. VALIS stands for Vast Active Living Intelligence System.

More interestingly though, the author of the book claimed to see ghosts of his twin brother who died in child birth.

9. I really thought Claire was going to be part of the Oceanic 6 because of Desmond's vision of Claire getting on the helicopter. I wonder if he saw her dead body getting on the helicopter but edited that part out for Charlie's sake?

10. Claire seemed awfully chipper for just losing her boyfriend, didn't she?

11. Hurley mentioned two movies. Xanadu and Satan's Doom. Other than a horrible movie, Xanadu is also the name of Kane's mansion in Citizen Kane and a famous poem about a tropical paradise. I have no idea what "Satan's Doom" is. I think the writer's secretly wanted to drive idiots like me crazy looking all over the internet for a movie that doesn't exist.

12. The book Sawyer is reading is called The Invention of Morel. Not too subtle here. The book is about a fugitive hiding on a tropical island.

13. Miles want 3.2 million dollars. (Not 3.3 or 3.4)

14. How I like Miles best...

Best Line:

Hurley : You just totally Scooby Doo'd me. Didn't you.

Sawyers Nicknames:

Miles : Bruce Lee

Hurley : Montezuma
