

www.batestown.com is back up
Tell all your Lost friends!

Season 5 Episode 3 Jughead

Title: Jughead is the guy from Archie.

That has nothing to do with Lost though.
Jughead was the name of the H-Bomb hanging over our little island.

1. Jughead was real. It was a secret code for an American Nuke test in 1954.
According to Richard Alpert, the year is 1954. Neato bandito.

2. Richard Alpert is cool. He is the original leader of the original Others.
Great Richard Alpert lines...
Sawyer "How do you know Richard would be here?"
Juliet "Richard is always here."
Locke "How old is Richard?"
Juliet "Old"

3. Locke tells Richard to meet him when he is born (in 2 years... 1956). This would explain why Richard was talking to kid Locke last season in Episode 11 - Cabin Fever. Showing him the compass and other items. Check it out here <http://batestown.com/3.html>

4. The guns the original Others had were M1 Garands. This was the normal rifle given to US troops from 1936 to 1963 which fits right into the time period of 1954.

5. Desmond and Penny's child is named Charlie. Interesting for two reasons. Poor dead Charlie was the one who made sure it was possible for Desmond and Penny to finally get back together. It was his sacrificed life that made it possible for Penny to find Desmond. The second interesting thing is that Penny's father is the hated and evil Charles Widmore, the man who constantly tried to keep them apart.

6. Ghost Whisperer Miles tells the 1950's Others that Faraday is in charge.

7. Where does Faraday know The Other named Ellie from? The girl in the photo Desmond found in the lab is Theresa. They look slightly similar, but there is probably something more to our new hot Other named Ellie. The big rumor is that our new friend Ellie is none other than Faraday's mother, Time Travelling genius Ms. Hawking herself...

8. Theresa is all time crazy like Minkowski was. (The communication guy on the freighter who time travel nosebled to death. Keep up people!)

9. Meaningless fact... Only 2 characters from Season 1 are in this episode. Sawyer and Locke. Weird, right?

10. Original "Otherville" :

11. Charles Widmore was an Other! What a whacky kooky show.

12. Widmore funded Faraday's research.

13. Widmore's office has a picture of a polar bear and Namaste on it. I think I posted that picture before, and I can't find a screen shot. I hope we can still be friends.

14. So Faraday loves Charlotte? Okay, I guess that's fine. Too bad the only constant she has is a constant nosebleed that equals death. She looks like a zombie... BRAINS!!!! Seriously, if they start adding zombies, I'm done. I love the show, but that would be a bit much... BRAINS!

15. Nothing to do with the show, but a little side note.

And an important one.

This little e-mail gets passed around a bunch and a lot of people (over 1000 a week during the lost season) hit www.batestown.com

Last week, I got an e-mail from someone asking to be added to the Lost e-mail group. To join our constantly growing 'Lost E-Mail Family'. While we are all mostly strangers, like in Lost, I am sure we are all easily connected to each other somehow.

In the e-mail was a link to the persons personal website. I clicked the link, and being a father of two, this person's story really touched my wife's and my own heart.

With permission received from the member, I would like to post the site here and ask for you to check it out for a few minutes.
www.anightfornate.com

Thanks to everyone!

Line of the week:

Locke: Your name is Widmore? Charles Widmore?

Widmore : What's it to you?

Locke: Nice to meet you.